1. Communist forces have constructed defense works at Yongmun-san (7893/7024/1472) north of Kangyong-gang (3068/0626/6670) and along the left bank of the Pukhan-gang (0554/3352/3068). These defense works extend for about 5 kilometers and are centered on the three main peaks on the east-to-west range of that mountain. Five large circular caves, each with an internal diameter of 25 meters, have been dug at the top of these three peaks; their firing positions are made of reinforced concrete 2 meters thick, and steel doors have been installed at their entrances. Defense works and trenches of a more simple construction are along the mountain ridges and below the 5 major forts. Communication trenches 1 1/2 meters wide and 1 1/2 meters deep have been dug between the major forts and the mountain ridges. Over 20 anti-aircraft gun positions have been constructed at the foot of Yongmun-san.
2. The Yongmun-san Position Command (sic) is at Simanjung-ni (2450/1344/0022/6849) (127-43, 38-38) (CT-8876), where 1 regiment (tan 0957) of Communist troops is stationed.
